

WHITE OAK NEWS.

Did you ever see a spy?

Corn husking is the order of the day. Jess Holbrook was in Edinburg Friday.

Mrs. Effie Kelly, of Morrisonville, was the guest of her sister here over Sunday.

Mrs. Tade and daughter, Miss Dora, of Palmer, were guests of Mrs. John Wenzler Thursday.

A. C. Dragoo and family were Springfield visitors a part of last week.

Orville Eldred is slowly recovering from a siege of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Peter Christopher returned Thursday from a week's visit at Morrisonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hendricks returned Thursday from a two weeks' visit with Carlinville relatives.

Thos. Tade, of Palmer, was in town a short time Friday. Tom is nursing a broken leg.

Rev. R. S. Moore and wife departed Tuesday for their home at Sidney, Neb., after a two weeks' visit here.

Quite a number of citizens have been summoned on a courting tour at Hillsboro.

O say girls, be patient when in need of a driver, give us a call. Though slightly disfigured we are still in the ring.

Lyman S. Kyles was very badly hurt while trying to ride a vicious horse Saturday.

Mrs. John Sams was very badly, if not fatally injured, a few days ago while picking apples.

Miss Metta Simonson was a guest of Waggoner friends Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tade, of Marshall, Mo., is visiting with relatives east of town.

J. L. Sigley returned Sunday from a two weeks' visit at Morrisonville.

Geo. Lyman is very sick at this writing with very little hopes of his recovery.

Owing to poor health Clarence Moore and family will leave us soon for Nebraska. He will sell all personal property and household goods at public sale in the near future.

Otto Hendricks and Miss Edith Rubel were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Rubel, near Morrisonville. The groom is one of White Oak's promising young men. May their lives be of continued happiness is our wish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lyman entertained quite a number of their gentleman friends Monday evening of last week, with cake and cigars, in honor of their recent marriage; also on the following Friday night the ladies, assisted by J. L. Sigley, agreeably surprised them again and were very pleasantly entertained with oysters. Some excellent music was rendered on both occasions, viz tin cans, shot guns and horns. The last affair was the third charivari party that John has entertained. Though very expensive it is evident that they have a host of friends who wish them well for the future.

Oct. 19 was a gala day at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks, south of town, where quite a number of their immediate relatives and friends assembled to celebrate the tenth anniversary of their wedded life. The affair was a complete surprise to them, and not until the bugle and surries began to arrive did they realize what had been planned for them. A sumptuous dinner was served spread by the arriving guests, and the table fairly groaned beneath the abundance of delicacies provided by the company. The couple were the recipients of some very beautiful and useful presents. The day was spent in a social manner, and at a late hour the guests departed for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks many more happy anniversaries. About forty were present, four of whom were present at the wedding ten years ago.
