

White Oak Whispering.

S. J. Haire of your city was in town Friday.

Miss Ethel VanDuyn has been engaged to teach the summer school.

S. J. Rowland's smiling countenance was seen here Saturday.

Quite a large average of oats were sown this spring. Our farmers are jubilant.

Messrs. Matthews and Canby of Farmersville were here Saturday on business.

C. B. Arnold shipped his fine horses to southern Indiana last week.

Miss Allie Martin of Litchfield was canvassing our burg last week.

The electric railroad fever has struck this place again and if natural gas will build, it will soon be erected.

Dr. E. C. Jones was called to Harvel the latter part of the week on professional business.

Miss Mattie Sigley will take her departure for Sorento the last part of this week, to spend the summer.

Mr. J. F. Simonson and Miss Eva Lyman are engaged with the garment cutting system. They will go to Missouri soon in the interest of the company.

A traveling gentleman gave this place a call last Saturday and wanted to engage several of our boys to shovel coal. They politely informed him that they were not laboring men. He then struck for taller timber.

The democrats of this, Montgomery, county and Boi's D'Arc Township recently nominated the following ticket: Judge, C. W. Bliss; clerk, B. A. Hendricks; Treasurer, S. D. Canady; Sheriff, O. M. Williamson; Supt G. P. Randle; Col., Thos. Ebers; Assessor, Richard Grace.

As we recently stated that this would be our declining week, we shall add a few words in conclusion. Having held the corresponding post for the past two years we feel it our duty to close, hoping ye editors may secure a more worthy itemizer and one that may be more capable of doing justice to our town and the Observer. We willingly submit our place, wishing the editors an abundance of success,

J. L. Sigley,

Elias McGinty.
